

Honu Home: Stories of Hope

Brad's Journey

At 66 years old, Brad found a "great starting point" at Honu Home. After decades of struggles and incarceration, he discovered genuine care, peer support, and the strength of a community that walked beside him. The lived experience of staff showed him he wasn't alone and allowed him to start believing in himself again. Today, Brad has his own place, works full-time, stays active in recovery, and looks to the future with hope and purpose.
